

Zemo 2025 Work Programme

Thank you from our Managing Director

2025 is set to be another big year for Zemo Partnership. With the UK's ambitious GHG reduction targets for 2030 – just five years away – cutting road transport emissions is more urgent than ever. The focus must shift to delivery.

Bringing together industry, experts, and government, Zemo is uniquely well positioned to lead in advocating and shaping policies for net zero transport. There are challenges, including huge pressure on the public finances and new attacks on the net zero agenda. But we can show that decarbonising transport will help to drive economic growth—the UK Government's number one mission.

Zemo Members will also have important opportunities to influence developing government policies on zero emission vehicles, low carbon fuels, integrated transport solutions, industrial strategy and more.

I look forward to your support in what promises to be an exciting year for Zemo Partnership.

Claire Haigh

Managing Director, Zemo Partnership

Zemo's 2025 Work Programme overview

Our mission is to strengthen policy and accelerate the pace of progress through advocacy, leadership and engagement with our members.

Zemo brings government, industry and experts together and – as an impartial, not-for-profit organisation – is uniquely placed to lead in developing and advocating for policies.

Our recently published Delivery Roadmap for Net Zero Transport in the UK, written following extensive consultation with our members, sets out the urgent actions needed to deliver net zero transport and create new opportunities for economic and employment growth.

The Delivery Roadmap provides a platform for Zemo and our members to inform policy and influence the future of road transport.
